FOR YOUNG FOLK

Neighborhood House Holds Recep tion and Youngsters "Show Off."

"BOOFUL LADIES" POUR TEA AND CHILDREN SING

Work Being Done for Young America Arouses Great Enthusiasm.

Neighborhood House, 470 N Street Southwest, had great "don's" yesterday afternoon, for the buys and girls who work and play there were at home to the grown-up' folke, who help to make tiskt delightfully informal club possible. Heally, it might be called a party that the Neighborhood House hoys and girls had, for besides showing off the pretty baskets and needlework that Neighborhood Club members had made, and telling about what each room and hall was for, the house offered things to eat, and "booful ladies" poured tes. Mr. and Mirs. J. P. S. Neiligh and Miss Levina Woodworth, who live at Neighborhood House and have immediate charge of the industrial, social, and who helps look after the flances of the house, were a general reception committee, and showed the visitors through the house and through the Industrial reception fants' and Children's Dispensary, each door, where Dr. W. J. French and Miss Ruth Merrill preside as physician and nurse.

tuests there. Though there was no program, a class of girls sang songs as they sat at their swing, and up in the day nursery two subsets cooled a welcome. They seemed to like the diversion.

Beys Provided For.

Now, back of Neighborhood House is the first public playground ever opened in Washington, and Neighborhood folks are proud to show it. Thirteen thousand children played in it last summer, and it's rather small, too. But yesterday the Neighborhood folks took their visitors across the playground to the workshop, where prefly baskets are wards. And above the workscomes there were the boys' ciubrooms, in which the boys were playing pool and billiards, and talking about their several gangs, now grown into 'True Americans.' "Progress." "Eagles." and half a dozen other 'clubs." Neighborhood House boys and girls dook great delight yesterday in telling visitors just how important their works. For they not only have a kindergarten school and playgrounds and clubrooms and those delights, but the

WILL TEST AEROPLANE GUN ON BOX KITE PULLED BY TRAIN

A new scheme for a target, in imita-A new scheme for a target, in limitation of an aeroplane, has been devised by ordnance officers at Sandy Hook in preparation for the tests of the army aeroplane-destroying gun. A large box kite has been constructed, and it is proposed to fly the kite and then tasten it to a locomotive. The locomotive will then tow the kite at a rate of thirty or forty miles an hour and the gun will be fired at it. The new gun is expected to prove the most successful weapon of the kind yet devised. It is understood that it will have a ratige of three miles and composite the first successful weapon of the kind yet devised. Officials Declare Auction of Dead Letter Packages Is Not Lottery.

ALL PROTESTS DISREGARDED

Business is business, according to Pontoffice Department officials, who said yesterday that despite the protestations of the Retail Jewslers' Association against the holding of the dead letter sale of the Department December 18, the sale would take place on schedule time.

Most of the dead letter packages contain Christman presents and other holtday goods, which never reached their dostination, and naturally the best time to sell them is just before Christmas holtdays, officials of the Department said. It wouldn't be good business to hold the sale in a slack season, the Post-office men sassert.
